

Boral's Marulan South Operations are pleased to present our regular newsletter for the information of our valued neighbours and wider community.

Hearing from you

We'd like to thank those who took the time to visit our 'drop in' centre at the Marulan Hall on 8 and 9 August in support of our upcoming planning proposals.

The 'centre' was opened specifically to help the community better understand our impending State Significant Development (SSD) application for the Marulan South Limestone site, and a modification we need to make to the Peppertree Quarry planning approval.

Matters discussed with us included the proposed overburden emplacements to be built around the sites, traffic on Marulan South Road, and the continuing improvement of our dust emissions management. We're also grateful for additional feedback we've received about the applications in person, via phone and email.

The planning documentation is still being compiled, so we'd be happy to receive more comments and answer questions residents might still have. Emails can be sent to feedback@boral.com.au, or you can call Paul Jackson, our Stakeholder Relations Manager, on 4677 2946 (Mon/Tue/Fri) or 0401 894 097 (Wed/Thu).

Details on what is proposed for each of our sites can be found on our Marulan South Operations webpage - www.boral.com.au/marulan.

Outward Bound 2018

The 2018 Boral Youth Leadership program in partnership with Outward Bound was held several months ago with 14 students from local high schools spending a week at Tharwa developing leadership skills and planning community projects.

The participant's next step, with Boral staff assistance is to plan out the projects in detail and implement them in their communities before the end of the year.

These projects include an aboriginal bush garden, tree planting and education on the glossy black cockatoos, support for peers program and engagement in aged care and hospitals.

We look forward to these young people making a difference.

Marulan Railway 150th

The teams from both Boral quarries were more than happy to assist the organising committee with the installation of a granite centrepiece at the Marulan Railway station to celebrate the 150th birthday of the Marulan railway station.

Marulan South Limestone HSE Connect

Marulan South Limestone hold regular "HSE Connect" sessions bringing together about 80 managers and shop floor employees to deal with various themes in the Health, Safety and Environmental space.

Earlier in the year the session was put together in an "expo" format, dealing with numerous topics, the primary one being traffic management. It also included fatigue, drugs and alcohol, mental health, sustainability awareness, isolation, positive psychology and HSE leadership. We made available a 777 Haul Truck, Front End Loader, Excavator and road Truck & Dog to build an awareness of blind areas and various traffic management controls that we have in place. It was a very interactive day with a shift away from the traditional presentations.
