Trees, Trees, Trees

We have completed our preparation and almost ready for planting. Over the next couple of weeks we will be planting and safeguarding more than 1000 trees throughout the site helping to improve the biodiversity throughout the quarry site.

Hydro-mulching is usually quite a quick process, However if you are hydro-mulching 25000m2 it becomes quite slow. Currently a team of contractors are working on one of our overburden emplacements, to stabilise and promote growth in the area. We will be laying down the hydro-mulch with a cover crop of millet with mixed local native seed.

International Women's Day

International Women's Day is recognized on the 8th of March each year to acknowledge and celebrate the achievements of women and to raise awareness of action required to accelerate women's equality.

The 2023 theme for IWD is #EmbraceEquity and calls on us to reflect on the collective actions we can take to challenge gender stereotypes, biases, to think about how we treat others and to proactively seek opportunities to be more inclusive.

At Boral we want to create a diverse and inclusive workplace where every person feels respected, connected and able to contribute to their full potential. That means that all our people are treated fairly, equally and without discrimination.

International Women's Day was celebrated across the Boral Marulan South Operations with morning tea to acknowledge the contribution made by women.
